Plan A in the Community

OVER 6,650 ATLANTANS HELPED SHAPED PLAN A!

To connect with communities across Atlanta for Plan A, we hosted a series of virtual and in-person events, ranging from large public gatherings—including a Kick-off event, Open Houses, Workshops, and Community Meetings—to various types of smaller touchpoints such as Pop-Ups and Mobile Tours. These events provided opportunities for Atlantans to share their ideas, input, and feedback, which helped shape Plan A's draft as an actionable plan for Atlanta's future. Working together as residents and neighbors in the spirit of progress, our aim for Plan A was to create a citywide community vision to make an Atlanta that functions better for all people.

In-person meetings to inform and educate Atlantans about the Plan A process and gather their input on planning topics were the core of community engagement. From March 2024 through February 2025, we conducted three rounds of public meetings as part of the Plan A planning process to engage communities across Atlanta.

2 Mobile Tours

Atlanta residents had the opportunity to engage with the Plan A team through Mobile Tours during the Jane's Walk Festival. These interactive, on-the-ground, guided walks designed to explore key planning topics in real-time were organized in collaboration with community leaders and allowed residents to share insights, discuss neighborhood concerns, and offer their input, feedback, and ideas for addressing existing issues and opportunities for improvement.

100+ Canvassing Places

Our Plan A Ambassadors distributed postcards with information on how to get involved with the planning process at various public locations across Atlanta promoting upcoming engagement activities.
